TOURISM BIG BUSINESS COUNCIL TOLD

Large Vote Is Urged For Leaf Balloting Here

The Murray Chamber of Commerce issued an appeal to all burley tobacco growers today, urging all eligible voters to cast a ballot in the referendum Thursday.

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

The subject today is men's ties.

Now this is a big business and not just a sideline.

It is a highly analyzed business too and not just one of those businesses where they make a lot of neckties and hope to sell them.

For instance it is a known fact that dark colors in neckwear dropped from 79 per cent in 1963 to 42 per cent in 1964. Keeps the necktie people on their toes wondering what kind of neckties folks will buy.

Here in the South Central states here are the ways the colors went in necktie sales.

Dark colors	46 per cent
Brighter	1 per cent
Medium	32 per cent
Bolder	none
Iridescent	18 per cent.

Now color is not all you have to worry about in the necktie business. You have such things as how many to make in stripes, how many solids, prints, etc.

Here in the South Central States last year here is how they went.

Stripes	65 per cent
Underknits	11 per cent
Nests	20 per cent
Solids	1 per cent
Prints	none

We don't know what a nest is either.

Is that all the tie people worry about, color and pattern? Not on (Continued on Page 6)

Civitan Club Is Recognized By Article In Publication

An article concerning the Murray Civitan Club appeared in the publication of Civitan International for February. The article was accompanied by two pictures of Civitan members, one accepting an honor for the work they have done for retarded children of the county, and the other showing President Hayden Rickman and past president Hoyt Roberts presenting checks totaling $6,480.00 to Superintendent of City Schools Fred Schultz for the construction of a school room for the mentally retarded of the county.

The article is being reprinted below for the interest of Ledger and Times readers. The Civitan magazine is circulated internationally.

Recently the Murray, Kentucky Civitan Club presented two checks to the Murray School System, one for the amount of $6,000.00 to help pay for the construction of a school room for the mentally retarded children of Murray and Calloway Counties. The other check in the amount of $1,480.00 was used to completely furnish the room with furniture and special equipment for the children.

The Murray Civitan Club was chartered November 6, 1958 and immediately began working with the mentally retarded children in this area. The first classes for this group were held in the American Legion building. Later an old residence was rented, which housed the school. The Club realized that better facilities were needed, so they decided to buy a small house in the suburban part of Murray where the children would have ample room as well as quietness. The Club completely remodeled the house and brick veneered it. A fence was installed around the back part of the lot so the children would have a safe place to play. Play-

Nearly Sixty Attend Region Travel Conference Here Today

"The tourist business in Kentucky is big business," Tom Cunningham, Merchandising Manager for the Ashland Oil and Refining Company told a large group this morning who were in attendance at the West Kentucky Lake and Regional Travel Conference held at the Murray-Woman's Club House.

Cunningham quoted a long list of figures to the audience of fifty, composed of motel and resort owners, oil company men and members of Commerce personnel which indicated that the travel and tourist business in Kentucky is increasing rapidly.

He pointed out that road funds receipts last year amounted to 100 million dollars; sales by motels and hotels amounted to 50 million dollars; restaurants and dining rooms took in almost 200 million dollars; gift shops received nearly 8 million dollars; service stations 320 million dollars.

He told his audience that receipts from the sale of sporting goods, fishing licenses, boating registrations, tent and trailer camps, boat sales and service, all show great increases over the past year.

In 1963 he continued, travelers spent 320 million dollars in Kentucky, and that the tourist trade in Kentucky has increased 162 per cent since 1948.

He said that 21 million persons visited from other states last year and spent 220 million while they were here. He pointed out that sales of $10,000 in the travel business creates one job for someone in Kentucky which in turn generates personal income of $3,400. Purchases by tourists in Kentucky create enough business to give jobs to 20,000 persons with incomes totaling $73,000,000 he continued.

Cunningham was introduced by Paul Grubbs, Director of the Kentucky Travel Council, who also (Continued on Page 9)

Telephone Talk

by
BOB CARPENTER

Your Telephone Manager

RECENT FIGURES SHOW THE BELL SYSTEM SERVES OVER 70 MILLION PHONES. And that total is increasing every day! What does this mean to you? Just this . . . every day there are more people you can reach by phone, and more people who can reach you . . . quickly, easily, and conveniently!

THIS IS A TRUE STORY WITH A VERY HAPPY ENDING. The Bell System is involved in the big job of building a transcontinental underground communications system that could withstand nuclear warfare. When it came time to work on the New England part of the system, they discovered the route of the cable would take it right through the site of the famous home and garden of the beloved Louisa May Alcott, authoress of "Little Women." Solution? A change of engineering plans that permitted digging around and under the historic property so that not so much as one leaf was disturbed. Which seems to prove that even in this complex, high-speed age of ours progress doesn't have to be made at the expense of our natural and historical resources. All it takes is a little time, consideration, and planning.

A THREE-YEAR-OLD FRIEND OF OURS REALLY KNOWS HER OWN MIND. The other day she decided she wanted to talk to her out-of-town grandmother. She took her mother by the hand, led her to the telephone and said, "Mama, you wind and I'll talk."

DID YOU KNOW WOMEN HAVE MORE ACCIDENTS THAN MEN? And most of their mishaps have to do with slipping and falling. High heels can be a girl's downfall if she doesn't watch her step. Something else is careless climbing. (Get a good, safe stepladder!) And finally, rushing around from place to place and chore to chore. (Solution for this last problem . . . easy-to-reach telephones around the house!)

The Almanac

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 23, the 54th day of 1965 with 311 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

American pioneer in education for girls Emma Hart Willard was born on this day in 1797.

On this day in history:

In 1870, Mississippi was readmitted to the Union.

In 1942, as President Franklin D. Roosevelt delivered one of his "fireside chats" to the nation, a Japanese submarine fired 25 shells at an oil refinery near Santa Barbara, Calif.

In 1964, the first mass inoculations of school children with Salk polio vaccine started in Pittsburgh.

In 1968, the AFL-CIO voted an organizing drive to combat Teamsters Union President James Hoffa.

A thought for the day — English author Samuel Johnson once said: "Curiosity is one of the permanent and certain characteristics of a voracious mind."

Calloway FHA Has Meeting

The Calloway County High School Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America met in the cafeteria of the school for its second meeting of the year.

Miss Nancy Wilson, president, led the opening rituals. Miss Susie Hucksby and Miss Nancy Wilson sang for the devotion.

The club was fortunate to have Misses Pat Davis, Judy Branch, and Beverly Loefer from Murray State College to speak to them on "Scholarship," the theme for the month of February.

Miss Marsha Herndon, second vice president, announced to the group that the executive council decided on selling candy at the next ballgame as the chapter money making project for donating to the State FFA Scholarship Fund.

The secretary, Miss Connie Evans, read the minutes of the last executive council meeting. The financial report was given by Miss Brenda Jones, treasurer. Miss Myra Bacy reported on the recommendation of the honorary member committee. The president then appointed the committees for the FFA Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Miss Sharon Venable, first vice president, reported that Miss Connie Evans was chosen "Miss International" for the chapter. She also read a letter thanking the organization for their effort in the U. N. I. C. E. L. F. Drive. Miss Venable then encouraged the girls to make an effort to better their home and family life.

Junior Homemaking Degrees were conferred on Debbie Calhoun, Cathy Harris, Judy Kelso, Connie Hopkins, and Bonita Chrisman.

The FHAers were very proud to hear that one of their members, Miss Carolyn Murdock, was chosen first attendant to the Sweetheart Queen of the First District Federation of the Future Farmers of America.

Closing rituals were led by the president. The song leader, Miss Bonita Chrisman, led in group singing, and refreshments were served by Misses Myra Bacy and Gracie Garrison.

Death Apology

UTTOXETER, England (UPI) — Muriel Arncliffe was shocked by the official letter she received from the army. It said her minister husband was dead—yet he was sitting just across the breakfast table.

Said Arncliffe: "It was all very funny, really. I received an apology."

FHA At Murray High Has Meeting Thursday

The Murray High School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the school with Miss Judy Hargis, president, presiding and conducting the opening ritual.

Miss Ann Dunnaway and Miss Jeanne Duguid gave the devotion. Miss Jan Cooper, chairman of the scholarship committee, reported on the scholarship fund in Kentucky which gives twenty scholarships to outstanding FHA students in Kentucky planning to major in home economics in college. The Murray chapter voted to give twenty-five dollars to this fund.

A parliamentary procedure skit was directed by Miss Mary Youngerman, parliamentarian. Those taking part were Misses Jan Cooper, Carolyn Reeves, Charlette Bell, Barbie Reed, Dorthea Swann, Judy Owens, Jane Belote, Beverly Hendon, Linda Billington, and Kathy Converse. Miss Trudy Lilly also gave points on the same subject.

The individual activities of national projects were discussed by Miss Judy Hargis on "Focus on Family Friendship" and by Miss Mary Keys Russell on "Citizenship Begins at Home."

Miss Teresa Reser led the group in a prayer.

It was announced that on Thursday afternoon Miss Mary Keys Russell talked to the eighth grade girls at Almo School about home economics and the FHA work to promote interest in the field. This is a part of requirements for the state homemaking degree for Miss Russell.

Discouraging Report

When Robert F. Kennedy took office as attorney general, he made a thorough study of crime with special emphasis on juvenile offenders. What he found out appalled him and what he said was discouraging.

"It has its roots in such things as school drop-outs, broken homes, racial discrimination, slum housing, and youth unemployment. The federal government cannot solve these problems. The fight is going to be won or lost at the grass roots level."

Right now it is being lost. Even if something drastic were done tomorrow on a national basis, the crime rate probably would continue to increase for the next three years. Too many juveniles already are in the pipelines that flow into our prisons.

Social workers? There aren't enough of them and no money to hire more. Men and women who are right down on the curbstone working with juvenile gangsters make occasional break-through that are encouraging. But then you have social workers who head are in the clouds like the psychiatrist who had been working in a boy's training school. His recommendation may have had some merit, but nobody will ever know for sure because it was gibberish: "Unseen and unheard but always omniscient are the subtle and covert resistances inevitably encountered when a contrapuntal modality invades the province of re-educational discipline."

Advice to Parents

A more down to earth approach to the problem was issued several years ago by the police department of Houston, Tex., in advice to parents. The sure way to create a juvenile criminal, the department said, would be: "Give the child everything he wants so he will grow up believing the world owes him a living. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him and tell him he is cute. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that his drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feed on garbage. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children so they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later. Give a child all the spending money he wants and never let him earn his own. Take his part against neighbors, teachers and policemen on the grounds that they are all prejudiced against your child."

More police? It would help, but it wouldn't strike at the root of the problem, it would mean that more offenders would be arrested, but it would not keep the criminal from going on the prowl in the first place. There is no doubt many of our large cities are under-policed, partly because changing times and the population explosion have created such things as more complex traffic to be regulated.

Poor Penal System

You search in vain for a piece of sunshine anywhere in the dark grim picture. Obviously there is something wrong with our penal system, and Dr. Joseph Satten of the Manning Foundation has been applying himself to the problem.

Most Crimes Responsibility Of Local Police Not The FBI

EDITOR'S NOTE: Statistics show an alarming increase in all types of crime.

The federal government finds itself powerless in many instances to join the battle against criminals. What can be done about it? UPI's national reporter discusses this aspect in the following dispatch, last of three.

By HARRY FERGUSON
UPI National Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson says he intends to do something about the nation's alarming increase in crime. Without doubting his good intentions, the hard facts are that it is easier for a President to say it than to do it.

There is a vague and utterly inaccurate belief abroad in the land that all crimes are the responsibility of the federal government. Actual, under present laws the federal government can fight crime only on a narrow front. It can't do anything, for instance, about murder; that is a local responsibility.

A President can make speeches denouncing crime and appoint commissions to study the problem. Johnson probably will do both before long. The Federal Bureau of Investigation each year conducts schools for more than 100,000 local and state law enforcement officers on the latest techniques in crime prevention. Then the problem hands right back where it came from—in the laps of cities, counties and states.

Discouraging Report

When Robert F. Kennedy took office as attorney general, he made a thorough study of crime with special emphasis on juvenile offenders. What he found out appalled him and what he said was discouraging.

Poor Penal System

You search in vain for a piece of sunshine anywhere in the dark grim picture. Obviously there is something wrong with our penal system, and Dr. Joseph Satten of the Manning Foundation has been applying himself to the problem.

"We send a man to prison," he said, "but what happens to him there? He isn't rehabilitated. He may even be made worse. But he is released without any evaluation of what has happened to him. . . then we learn the hard way that prison also has failed to deter him from breaking the law."

"This is supposed to be wisdom? Just about 75 per cent of our prison population is made up of repeaters. From punishment bus we continue to punish them. Our prisons perpetuate the vicious cycle of hurt for hurt. The least we can strive for is some kind of treatment so the man will not go out and do it all over again."

Perhaps you would like to wish President Johnson good luck in his campaign against crime, because he is going to need it. If he can array the best brains in the nation and give them some $2 billion to work with, he may slow down the nation's rush into crime. That anybody can stop it altogether is doubtful.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ages at which persons are most likely to commit crimes, according to the Uniform Crime Reports of the FBI: Murder, 25 to 29. Aggravated assault, 25 to 29. Auto theft, 16. Rape, 25 to 29. Burglary, under 15 through 29. Forgery and counterfeiting, 25 to 29. Drunken driving, 30 and over. Prostitution, 25 to 29. Violation of liquor laws, 19. Vagrancy, 50 and over.

A LOT TO SAY

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI) — Soldiers at this Army post in central Texas apparently had a lot to write home about last year.

The post purchasing agent reported Friday they bought $36,668 worth of stationery during 1964. There are 37,000 troops on the base.

I Would Like To Announce My Candidacy for Magistrate of the Hazel District

Subject to the Wishes of the Voters on May 23, 1965

I feel that most of you know me as I have spent most of life as a school teacher or in some form of public service which I think qualifies me for this office.

If you see fit to elect me, I promise to serve all of the people in a fair and impartial manner and in some small way try to make Calloway County a better place in which to live.

I will try to see all the voters in this district. Should I fail to see you, please accept this as a sincere appeal for your vote and support in this race for Magistrate.

Sincerely

Dewey Crass

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Bucy on Tuesday, March 2, at one p.m.

Dear Abby . . .

ONE-SIDED 'ARRANGEMENT'!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what the punishment is for a man and woman who are caught posing as Mr. and Mrs. in California hotels and motels. My husband and his girl friend (who is also married) posed as man and wife in Sacramento, La Jolla and Palo Alto. We have three children. Two are teen-agers, and my husband had the nerve to tell our teen-agers to stay away from a certain girl because she wasn't "nice."

Meanwhile, HE travels all over the State of California committing adultery with this tramp. I know I have grounds for divorce, but I would rather stay married to him and put HER in prison. Can this be arranged?

NOT POOLED

DEAR NOT: Unmarried couples posing as man and wife in hotel and motel rooms are lawbreakers in EVERY state. The punishment varies, but the publicity and fallout on family and friends is always regrettable. Unless the girl friend kidnapped your husband, the guy must be equally shamed.

DEAR ABBY: I pray that the 14-year-old, "Can't sign my name," books your advice and tells her mother or the police before it's too late! I was a widow with two daughters, 8 and 10, when I married what I thought was a fine, handsome man. I found out long before that he had molested my 10-year-old since the first year of our marriage until she was 13. She was afraid to tell me because he threatened to kill her if she did. I suspected she was pregnant and the very day I found out she was, that contemptible creature tried to molest the other girl, then 11, but thank heavens SHE told me in time. I had him arrested, and filed for divorce. He is now serving a prison term and we are divorced—but good! I shudder to think of what may happen to that child if she doesn't tell her mother or report the man to the police at once. You have my permission to print this if you think it will help someone, but please don't use my name.

TRYING TO FORGET

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the little 14-year-old girl who couldn't sign her name touched my heart because I could have written such a letter many years ago. Abby, I am sure we would all be horrified to know the number of girls who have had to face this problem. And sadly enough, most of these are afraid to tell anyone.

I am convinced that if young girls would wear a cross, or a Star of David, or some kind of religious medal where it could be plainly seen by any man who looks at her, it might make him think twice.

A NIGHTMARE IN MY PAST

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be writing a letter to DEAR ABBY, but I just have to have an answer. I am a 16-year-old junior and I would like to know why boys pay good money to get into a dance and then just stand around. Please put your answer in the paper as there are about a million girls who share this problem.

HOPKINS, MINN.
DEAR HOPKINS: They want to be near a girl just in case they get the courage up to ask one of them to dance.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

 previewed the importance of the travel industry to Kentucky.
 William L. Knight, Director of Travel Division, Department of Public Information, warned the group that we have to have the "fastest gun" however, because this lucrative tourist business is also being sought by other states. This year Kentucky will participate in fourteen travel shows he told the audience.

National advertising is being carried out to concentrate on fifty major metropolitan newspapers and fourteen national magazines, he continued.

He pointed out the help which the state gives to the Travel Council to help them in advertising their areas. The state will pay half the cost of advertising space, outdoor signs, construction of exhibits, prints or movies, and promotional folders. This is on a dollar for dollar matching basis.

"If every Kentuckian is aware of what our department is trying to do... what the Kentucky Travel Council is trying to do... and if we get the 100 per cent cooperation from our citizens, we will have the "fastest gun" he concluded.

This morning James L. Johnson, executive secretary of the Murray Chamber of Commerce opened the meeting, the first of its type held in Murray. Mayor Holmes Ellis extended a welcome to the group as well as Mrs. Jo Westphaling of Pulaski, chairman of the Regional Council.

Following lunch today at the clubhouse, Mrs. Westphaling held a regional business session and James Johnson, gave a regional inventory of attractions and new construction.

Final business of the meeting will be the election of officers of the Regional Council this afternoon. Many local motel and resort owners were in the audience today, as well as local business men, Mayor Holmes Ellis, and representatives of the local banks.

There is much more about ties. The $2.50 tie will be the leading price in 1965, brighter and bolder colors are in the offing, high school and college kids still buy only the narrow, plain ties, and ties sell better if they are hung out on a rack rather than being put in a show case.

Recently the Valley District presented the Murray Club with a plaque in recognition of their work with the mentally retarded. Working with these children has been the main project of the Club, but they also have a shoe bank which furnishes free shoes for the needy children, they distribute baskets of food to the needy at Christmas time, donate to the annual WPSD-TV telethon for crippled children, support the Little League baseball Club, the Murray State College "Backboard Club," and various other civic projects.

The Club's only means of raising funds for these projects are the annual fruit cake sales, the ice cream booth at the County Fair where "home made" ice cream is sold, and the annual "Pancake Day" in which two restaurants are leased for one day each year with pancakes and sausage or bacon being served all day by Civitan members and their wives. The Club only has thirty members but they, as well as their wives, work hard on these
